New Cafe, Lounge Completion In Nov.

Completion of the new student union building is expected in early November, but it will not be ready for occupancy until all furnishings are in place. This building of approximately 31,000 sq. ft. will include a cafeteria, locker space and student lounge and will be connected to the gym by lobbies in the basement and first floor.

"The Dining Hall-Student Union Building", which is its official name, is a two story and basement structure of Beaver Dam Marble.

Upon completion, the main floor will contain an air-conditioned dining hall with seating accommodations for 350, and full kitchen facilities. Also on this floor will be the faculty lounge and dining room and the book store.

Mezzanine Area

Located on the north side of the dining room is a mezzanine of 7,600 sq. ft. which includes a large student lounge, music room, student activity offices and the office of the Dean of Men.

Space for 500 individual lockers is provided in the basement. The rifle range, rest rooms and student offices are located here along with a service lobby connecting to the gym at the swimming pool.

Features and Finance

Besides having the first large scale air-conditioning on campus, the new building also has a freight elevator and loading dock. A permanent public address system will be installed in the dining hall, thus equipping it for banquets.

The building has become a reality due to the many gifts made by the Alumni, local business and industry and friends of Loyola. The college in addition enjoys a loan from the Federal Government through the HHFA.

Dr. Kirwin Addresses First Student Assembly

Approximately 400 students attended the first student assembly in Cohn Hall on September 30. Awards for last semester were presented and the students were addressed by Dr. Harry Kirwin, Professor of History, and by Fr. Henry Haske, S.J. on the new Jesuit mission in Osorno, Chile.

The meeting was conducted by Fr. Aloysius Galvin, Dean of Studies, who expressed the hope that through these assemblies the students would gain a sense of community.

Speakers

President of the Student Body, Thomas Dwyer first addressed the group on the workings of the Student Council and asked for more general cooperation in these voluntary assemblies.

Fr. Haske then spoke on the need of education in the mountain region of Chile where the new mission is located and asked the spiritual and temporal help of the students.

Dr. Kirwin, who is recuperating from an eye operation, stated that many people are necessary to

I.R.C., Gorman Sponsor U.N. Speaker Oct. 21

On October 21 at 8 P.M., the Loyola I.R.C., together with the Gorman Lecture Series, will present Mr. William C. Powell, a guest speaker, in Cohn Hall.

The purpose of this lecture will be to celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. The I.R.C. will be assisted in this celebration by both the student body here at Loyola, and also from surrounding colleges.

Guest Speaker

Mr. Powell, who is chief of the Center Service Section of the Division of External Relations began with the U.N. in 1945 when he was drafted from a successful Navy Tour to assist in the preparation of the first United Nations General Assembly.

In 1946 he became a present member of the United Nations Secretariat, and along with his service in New York has also spent a few years in London as its Press Officer.

U.N. Week

This lecture, Loyola's contribution to U.N. Week October 18-24, is held to bring the significance of the United Nations closer to the college student.

Fr. Higgins Views Liberalism At Holy Ghost Mass

Christian Liberal Education as a training of the will as well as intellect was the theme of the sermon delivered by Fr. Thomas Higgins, Professor of Ethics, at the traditional Mass of the Holy Ghost on October 9.

Stressing that only the Christian view of the universe is the correct one in the light of eternity, Fr. Higgins said that this must strengthen the will of the students as well as their intellects.

Officers of the Mass

At the Mass, which is a 400 year old tradition in Jesuit colleges, Reverend Father Vincent F. Beatty, President, was celebrant, Father John Scanlan, Professor of Psychology and Theology, was deacon and Mr. Wallace Jungers, Instructor in Chemistry, was sub-deacon.

Loyola's Glee Club sung the Mass under their new directress, Miss Virginia Reinecke who also acted as organist.

Student Council Busy This Year

Loyola's thirty-first Student Council initiated operations on May 8 and since that date there have been six meetings.

One of these was held in August at which the Council voted by majority to make the Yearbook compulsory.

Extra Courses

A motion was passed at one of the meetings last semester, and sent to the Administration, asking that a program of free courses be instituted. This motion was passed by the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs and the Academic Council and now lies before the Board of Trustees. The motion is that approved students in the upper third of their respective classes be allowed to take extra courses in the Day School at no extra tuition charge.

At the meeting held September 1, the Council submitted a request to the Dean of Studies that no two examinations be given a student on any one day. This motion has been accepted by the Dean and the new exam schedule will call for a six day period excluding Saturdays.

Parliamentarian Ed Metzbowler will head a committee to examine the Council Constitution, election ordinances and by-laws for any ambiguous statements, sources of error, etc. The committee's findings will eventually be proposed as referendums for student acceptance.

Editorials

Res Novae

In Latin, Res Novae betokens not only new things but also revolution. Thus The Greyhound not only shows new things this year, but also revolution.

During its 32 year history at Evergreen, the newspaper has been published as a semi-monthly or bi-weekly. Speaking only for editors of the past three years it has been a dream kicking around editorial pates to publish weekly. This year at the urging of the new moderator and Dean of Studies, The Greyhound will "go to press" weekly.

We hope, by this more frequent appearance, to cover school functions better. To facilitate this appearance, we have reduced our size and ask the indulgence of the students for this change.

Our schedule this year calls for delivery every Friday during regular sessions. Look for a better, if not bigger Greyhound, then. J.M.M.

Dead Spirits?

Among the publications received by this office is The Hungarian Student, published by the Union of Free Hungarian Students in North America. In their April-May 1959 issue was a long article from a similar organization in Munich.

It seems that in rebuilding the University of Munich, which was heavily damaged during World War II, certain decorative inscriptions in a stairwell were being replaced and one of them started a student uproar. The inscription was a quotation from Horace, "Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori." (It is sweet and fitting to die for one's country). A majority of the German students felt that this sentiment had become passe and should not be returned. Petitions pro and con were circulated and the Hungarian students, who were among the Freedom Fighters in 1956, were strong in the fight to let the inscription stand. But they were unsuccessful and the inscription was remodeled into a less offensive "Mortuorum virtute tenemur." (We are indebted to the valor of the dead.)

We feel that this incident is another in the modern depreciation of patriotism in which it is becoming less clear that one's country is worth fighting and dying for. Since October 23 is the third anniversary of the Hungarian Revolution it is worth while to consider the words of their statement at Munich.

"We are compelled to voice this towards those, who are flurried by the word 'our country', fearing the revival of past violations, just as towards those who cling to it on sentimental grounds alone. We no longer consider 'our country' to be the 'gaily fluttering national colors' . . . nor do we mean the borderline hatred towards the culture, the politics, the wealth of neighboring nations . . ."

"Our own patriotism is based on a wider scope — it leans toward the life of our neighbor — toward the culture in which we live. Basically something which does not divide, but . . . links . . . a patriotism linked with the human being and the humane.

"Our words are justified by the fact that we have come from inhumanity. Whoever we may be, we must warn just 'the human being', remind him of the humanity which was born . . . So that inhumanity may not afflict him — nor us, for not having fulfilled our obligation."

Father Galvin Expresses Confidence In Students

As an Alumnus of Loyola College Father Aloysius C. Galvin, dean of studies, brings with him a broad knowledge of the problems of this campus.

"I have the utmost confidence in the student body and in its Student Council", Father said.

He added that there are men, capable men, within the student body who can carry on the spirit and good name of Loyola College.

Father's confidence was shown when he called a student assembly on a voluntary attendance basis. He commented that he was pleased with the turn out but hoped that in future assemblies there would be 'overflowing crowds.'

Purpose of the Assemblies

Father Galvin said, "The purpose of the student assembly is to bring about a sense of fellowship and togetherness, to remind us we are more than ourselves but also a part of Loyola."

"We hope to have six or seven assemblies during the school year."

Plans call for talks by guest speakers and for student participation. The students, it is hoped, will actively decide what is to be done at the assemblies. Students should make suggestions to their class representatives.

"You only get out of something what you put into it" he reminded.

He said, "I am open to any suggestions from the student body or the Student Council."

School Functions

He expressed hope that with this community spirit attendance at all school functions would increase.

"I have no doubt that the student body will give full support to all school functions."

"The Student Union building and the weekly newspaper with fresh current events will add much to generate the true Loyola spirit."

The new Dean further called for a communication between the student body and the faculty. By this he means that the relation between student and teacher should go beyond the classroom.

Father emphasized, "Although we wish to increase the spirit and fellowship at Loyola, we do not want to defeat our academic objectives."

the Watchdog

Due to careful planning on Father Knott's part, the student body had a better opportunity to make a good retreat this year. However, the short breaks made it difficult for the boys to organize card games.

Both the Science and English departments are shrugging off a feeling of bewilderment this month as they desperately attempt to adjust themselves to the news that Lindsley Schutz had decided to be an English Major.

For those who don't know it Lindy has done very well in the Science Department, being a physics major who has completed three and a quarter years of the math program, as well.

Flash

A well known national magazine written with the playboys in mind has announced its opposition to nuclear testing. The reason? Knowing the reason would require checking. Checking sometimes produces facts. Facts are contrary to the policy of this column.

There is a new club meeting in Xavier Lounge known as the "Barbarians". The first move of the club headed by Leo Andrews, John Dodson, and Ken Donohue, was to make me Sergeant-at-Arms. The second move, when I foolishly objected to stuffing a member under a table was to eject the Sergeant-at-Arms, together with his lounge chair.

In keeping with his usual generosity and extravagant cuisine, Joe, the man responsible for the fine food at Loyola, charges five cents extra for toasted sandwiches.

ROTC Announces Military Ball Nov. 21

With only five starters returning, the ROTC rifle team is almost starting new. Sergeant Foley, team coach, however, is hoping to develop good match firers from among the 50 freshmen candidates.

Another problem facing the team is the lack of a range. Sgt. Foley does not plan to use Turner Armory as last year, thus until a new range in the Student Union Building is ready, team members will do only "dry" firing in the Arms Room.

First match is at 3:00 P.M., October 23 against Howard University in Washington, D.C.

Scabbard and Blade

November 21 is the date of this year's Military Ball co-sponsored by the Scabbard and Blade.

Contest for Queen of the ball will be held November 4. Pictures must be 5 in. by 8 in. and must be submitted between October 28 and November 3.

Pershing Rifles

Captain Michael Spigelmire has announced that the second annual P/R Fall Ball will be held October 31. At that time the P/R Queen will be crowned and this year's pledge group of 60 will receive their pledge ribbons.

Director Releases Job Manual

Director of Placement Mr. Francis X. Moritz will release the new edition of the College Placement Annual this month. The picture it presents for 1959-60 promises more opportunities for more people in more varied fields than previously.

The Annual is an official non-profit listing of job opportunities at more than 1,700 participating companies. Loyola is one of the 600 colleges and universities where it is distributed. Copies for personal or reference use are available in the Placement Office in the Library Building.

Undergraduate Opportunities

Underclassmen interested in summer work with the Federal Government are advised of the Civil Service Student Trainee Program. In this program students receive Civil Service status in scientific, technical, accounting and statistical fields and are employed by Federal Agencies during summer vacations. The next deadline for application is November 10 for examination on December 1. Applications and details are available in the Placement Office. Most jobs available are in the Washington, D.C. area.

The Newspaper

The Greyhound Appointments which are just for this semester are as follows:

James Molloy remains as Editor in Chief, as does William Lohnes as Sports Editor.

Dale Jefferson moves over to News Editor and Lawrence Parr replaces him as Business Manager.

The Greyhound will be published weekly this year, appearing every Friday during regular sessions.

The new Faculty Advisor is Mr. Jon O'Brien.

October 24, U.N. Day is the fourteenth anniversary of the signing of the U.N. Charter in San Francisco, and U.N. Week is the annual commemoration of this.

Poetry Contests

National Poetry Association

Competition for the College Students' Poetry Anthology has been announced by the National Poetry Association. All students are eligible and there are no limitations as to form or theme. Shorter works are preferred, however.

Each poem must be typed or printed on individual sheets bearing student's name, address, and college. Deadline is November 5, 1959; address is National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 34, California.

American College Poetry Society

The American College Poetry Society is preparing its second annual anthology. Poems are unrestricted in theme but must not exceed 48 lines. Any student may submit up to five poems on separate sheets bearing his name, address and college. Unless accompanied by stamped self-addressed envelope, rejected entries will not be acknowledged. Deadline is December 1, 1959; address is Alan C. Fox, American College Poetry Society, Box 24463, Los Angeles 24, California.

Super Sub!

It's been said that the atomic submarine "Nautilus" stays submerged so long that it only surfaces to let the crew re-enlist.

Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Nautilus" for the only soft-drink vending machine in the entire submarine fleet.

Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine. And not unexpectedly, re-enlistments are quite respectable.

Rugged lot, those submariners. Great drink, Coke!

GREYHOUND SPORTS

By BILL LOHNES

Greyhound Sports Editor

Twenty-two men is considered a nice turnout for any sport, but when that many show up for cross-country try outs — well, it's close to miraculous.

The large number is, particularly, encouraging when you consider that three years ago, coach Bill McElroy hardly had enough established harriers to finish the season.

"The turnout was really gratifying, said McElroy, and what's more we've had very few drop-offs and most of the boys are staying out."

The squad has come a long way since 1956 as their 5-0 dual meet record and 4th place finish in the M-D tournament last season will attest.

Captain Paul Sherman, the Loyola course record holder at 16:55 and Stack Burton will lead the '59 brigade with Lou Smith and two promising Frosh Mike Burton and Henry McGraw, hot on their heels.

Returnees Mike Abromaitis, Ken Donahue, the Hound's fifth man last season, and Wayne Leidner figure to improve and challenge the front runners, while two St. Joe grads Reggie Wise and Bill Jenkins have shown enough potential to merit Mac's attention. Soph George Yurek, has been a pleasant surprise finishing eighth in an intra-squad meet.

The '59 version, suffering only one loss through graduation is stronger and possesses more depth than the winning teams of the last two years. It looks like another successful season, and maybe — but we're not predicting — a championship.

LATE RESULTS. When the x-country team finally found out where Gallaudet was running, (The Hounds went to Washington and they came here.) the thin-clads downed the visitors, 50-15.

Members of the swimming team participate in outdoor workouts. The aqua-men take to the water Monday, exactly one month from their first meet against the Alumni on Nov. 19.

Mt. St. Mary's Is Foe As Booters Seek Win

By BOB REITER
Ass't Sports Editor

Mount St. Mary's plays host to the Loyola College soccer team today, as the Hounds try to break into the win column. Game time at Emmitsburg is 3:00 P.M. Loyola won last year, 5-2.

The Hounds are winless after their first two matches, but they played two fine games against the University of Maryland and Johns Hopkins.

At Homewood the Jay's scored first and held a 1-0 lead after the first period. Then in the second quarter two quick goals by Jerry Beck and Bucky Effinger put the Hounds out in front. It looked as though the Hounds might take the squeaker, but in the final period, Hopkins slipped the ball past goalie Don Wallenhorst sending the game into double overtime. Neither team scored during the overtime. Final score Loyola 2; J.H.U. 2.

Loyola couldn't crack into the scoring at College Park. The Hounds did well during the first half and some thought Loyola might come through with a victory. But in the second half the bigger and more experienced Terps proved that they are one of the top pitch teams in the country by holding off any Greyhound scoring threat and winning decisively 6-0. Wallenhorst played an outstanding game in the goal.

Captain Jerry Beck playing his fourth year as a regular has consistently played well and should repeat on the All-Mason-Dixon soccer squad, a position he has held since his sophomore year.

Senior fullback Ed Zepp also comes in for some praise by Lind. "Ed never played soccer before he came to Loyola, and now he has developed into a good soccer player."

Loyola plays its first home game October 27 against the Yellow Jackets of Randolph-Macon.

MEET THE COACH

Tom Lind, Soccer

Here at Loyola the job that our coaches do is quite often overlooked and usually underrated. It takes a lot of patience and great competitive spirit to produce teams which year after year are able to hold their own against strong opponents. Tommy Lind, who coaches Loyola's booters, has been able to accomplish this in his five year coaching stint here.

Tommy graduated from Loyola in '51 and was an outstanding athlete for the Hounds throughout his college career. He was a four letter man in baseball and a three letterman in soccer. All four years that Tommy played baseball he was All Mason-Dixon. In soccer he was twice chosen on the Mason-Dixon All Stars, and in 1950 he was picked on the All South soccer team.

After graduating Tommy played AAA ball for Columbus in the American Association.

In addition to coaching, Tommy is in the fire and casualty insurance business.

Court Practice Begins Today; Eight Return

By LAWRENCE R. STURM

Loyola's Basketball team will hold its first official practice today. The Hounds finished fifth in the Mason-Dixon Conference last year, and they will be pointing towards the dethronement of last years winner, American University.

Coach Lefty Reitz has eight of eleven lettermen returning from last year's team which had a 13-11 record.

John Heagney, the teams leading scorer last year with a 14.4 scoring average is being counted on heavily by coach Reitz to lead the team is scoring. Joe O'Hara, 6'5" co-captain, had an 11.2 scoring average last year, and if he improves, he will give the team a much needed high scoring big man. Ed Murn at 6'5" is an outstanding rebounder and he could also be that big man that coach Reitz is looking for if he would shoot more often. Mike Sneeringer, the other co-captain and the best shot on the team should be a great asset to the team if his defense and ball handling improve.

Teaming with Heagney in the backcourt will be Steve Bogusky, who showed great promise as a freshman last year. The player who could make the Hounds a top contender in the conference is Dave Marshal if he could consistently spark the team as he did on occasion last year. The other returning lettermen are Dave Carney and Tom Gray.

Freshman candidates for the team are Bill Airey, Calvert Hall, Mickey Gardner, Loyola, Phil Potter, Towson Catholic and Don Wallenhorst, Mt. St. Joe from local schools. The out of towners are Charles O'Donnell and Tony Rivizzo, from Brooklyn, Bob Schuel from Philadelphia, and Gary Cucuel from Greenwich, Connecticut.

Tennis Invitational Here

Evergreen is the site of the first Mason-Dixon Conference Invitational Tennis singles tournament, which is being held this weekend. Quarter finals were held yesterday; semi-finals today; with the wrap-up coming tomorrow afternoon.

Invitations were extended to all schools in the Mason-Dixon Conference to send their two outstanding tennis players.

The Ensign C. Markland Kelly, Jr., Memorial American Legion Post #174 was host at a buffet supper yesterday for all participants and coaches. The Post will also award trophies to the winner and runner-up.
